

PRESENTATION

The LITER21 Research Group – University of Santiago de Compostela and Research Center on Child Studies – University of Minho unite to launch the II Internacional Conference on Child Studies seeking to be a meeting point between university teachers, researchers, early childhood and primary teachers, teacher students and other stakeholders who work in education, rights, protection and welfare of children. The II International Conference on Child Studies will be a forum for the presentation, discussion and recognition of the multi and interdisciplinary framework of the vast field of research and engagement based on science for the improvement of early childhood and youth conditions. Taking into account the goals of sustainable development and the 2030 Agenda related to child participation in the construction of a more equal and fair society on a global scale, this II Conference welcomes scientific works, empirical papers, conceptual discussions and policy briefs with a focus on children and their living conditions in ever complex and changing times.

SPEAKERS

TATEK ABEBE

Tatek Abebe is a professor of childhood studies at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology, where he teaches postgraduate courses on cultural epistemologies of childhood, children, youth and development, participatory methodologies, and ethics. His longitudinal ethnographic research in Ethiopia examines how young people are affected by and shape the sociocultural and political-economic environments they inhabit with an emphasis on inter-generational relationships, rights, care, work, schooling, education, and activism. He has published scholarly articles and book chapters on these intersecting areas as well as on a wide range of topics concerning precarious childhoods and youth in diverse African settings. His co-edited books cover themes on childhood and local knowledge, learning and labouring, children and global development, and decolonial childhood studies. He is an editor of Childhood: A Journal of Global Child Research. <https://www.ntnu.edu/employees/tatek.abebe>
